IAAF ÅF Golden League 2009 Schedule

The dates and events for the six-meeting 2009 IAAF ÅF Golden League were announced in December 2008 by the International Associations of Athletics Federation.

As was the case for the 2008 Golden League, athletes will be required to win at all six meetings in the series to acquire at least a share of athletics' biggest yearly payday, the $1 Million Jackpot.

To sustain the active participation in the Jackpot of as many athletes as possible through to the culmination of the series, should no athlete manage to attain six wins and claim the $1 Million, then anyone with five victories will share half the original prize - $500,000. NOTE: this secondary prize is only on offer should nobody win his or her event at all six meetings.

EUGENE, NEW YORK PART OF NEW IAAF DIAMOND LEAGUE

The IAAF announced in March that the Nike Prefontaine Classic in Eugene, Ore., and Reebok Grand Prix in New York City will be part of a prestigious new circuit of elite track meets known as the "IAAF Diamond League", starting in 2010.

Replacing the current ÅF Golden League of six meets, the Diamond League will feature at least 12 globally televised meets on four continents, giving the IAAF a series that extends beyond the European confines of the current Golden League, into the United States, Asia and the Middle East.

The Diamond League also will expand the number of events contested in the IAAF's showcase series, featuring 32 different event disciplines. All 32 events will have equal prize money, with each meet doling out $416,000. Top stars will be signed to contracts to compete in the series.

Long part of USATF's Visa Championship Series, the Nike Prefontaine Classic and Reebok Grand Prix already were recognized as two of the world's top meets and had IAAF Grand Prix I status. Many of the world's biggest stars have competed recently in Eugene and/or New York, from American sprinters, hurdlers and shot putters to African distance runners; Jamaican sprinters to Chinese hurdlers.

Athletes will score points in their events at each meet in the series. The overall top point-winning athlete in each event will win the "IAAF Diamond Race" and be awarded a 4-carat diamond, worth approximately $80,000.

Meets currently planned for the 2010 Diamond League are the Aviva London Grand Prix; Aviva British Grand Prix; Athletissima Lausanne; Bislett Games Oslo; DN Galan Stockholm; Herculis Monaco; Meeting Areva Paris St-Denis; Memorial Van Damme Brussels; Prefontaine Classic Eugene; Reebok Grand Prix New York; China Golden Grand Prix; Weltklasse Zurich; DKB ISTAF Berlin; Golden Gala Rome, Qatar Athletics Super Grand Prix in Doha. The IAAF noted that contracts with Berlin, Rome and Doha have yet to be signed.

2009 USA Running Circuit

The USA Running Circuit (USARC), a USA Track & Field road series, features USA Championships from 5 km to the marathon and attracts America's best distance runners.

The first ten U.S. runners earn points at each USARC race (15 for first, 12 for second, 10 for third, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2 and 1), with a final $12,500 grand prix purse ($6000, $4000, and $2500) for the top three men and women point scorers overall. The USARC points at the USA Marathon Championships will be doubled.

The mission of the USA Running Circuit is to showcase, support, and promote U.S. runners. Since its inception in 1995, the USARC and its races have provided over $6 million dollars to U.S. distance runners.

In addition to competing for a total prize purse of $613,000, U.S. athletes will have the opportunity to qualify for various Team USA events, including the IAAF World Championships Marathon, the IAAF World Road Running Championships and the Chiba International Ekiden

USA Race Walking Grand Prix

The USA Race Walking Grand Prix, now in its sixth year, is a year-long series of competitions through which USATF crowns an overall champion for each competitive year based upon the National Championship schedule of events. In 2008, over $50,000 in prize money was awarded. Races are contested from 1 mile to 50 kilometers for men and women.

Individuals who are members of USATF in good standing prior to the start of each event are eligible to compete. Scoring can be either as individuals or as a team. For individuals, the top 10 overall U.S. finishers, male and female, can score in each race in the Series (10 for first, 9 for second, 8 for third, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1). A bonus of 2 points will be given to the winner if he or she breaks the national record at the race distance.

Individuals may compete for a team only if they are registered under their team name in the USATF Membership database on race day. All teams must submit a roster of USATF registered athletes to the Grand Prix Coordinator before the race. Once the team has been verified, only additions or subtractions of registered athletes need to be made. No day-of-race changes will be accepted. All USATF team-change rules apply. The top three teams will score points in selected team-scoring events, by gender (10 for first, 8 for second, 6 for third).

The wide range in distances gives the top race walkers in the U.S. an opportunity to compete against each other all year long and aids in developing the next group of international-level athletes. The 10 events selected for 2009 provide athletes with a geographically diverse racing schedule and sponsors with national exposure for their products.

2007 saw the addition of a junior division, for athletes under 20 years of age. This will continue in 2009 with 8 events, on the road and track, from 5000m to 20km, including a stop at the prestigious Penn Relays.

The top three individual men and women in the open & junior divisions, and the top three men's and women's teams overall, will be presented with awards and recognized at the USATF Annual Meeting in Indianapolis, Indiana, December 2-6, 2009.
